Universal Electronics' Asia Subsidiary Signs Capital Stock Sales Agreement

UEI's sale of Guangdong Province facility signals shift in manufacturing operations to Yangzhou and Qinzhou Regions

SANTA ANA, CA - September 30, 2016 - Universal Electronics Inc. (UEI), (NASDAQ: UEIC), the worldwide leader in sensing and control technologies for the smart home, today announced that its wholly-owned subsidiary, C.G. Development Limited ("C.G. Development"), has entered into an agreement to sell its entire ownership interest in Gemstar Technology (China) Co. Ltd. ("Gemstar China") to Guangzhou Junhao Investment Co., Ltd. ("GJI").

Gemstar China, located in Panyu (Guangdong Province), owns and operates one of the four UEI manufacturing facilities located in China. UEI made the decision to transfer manufacturing operations from its main Guangdong Province location into its newer facilities located in the Yangzhou and Qinzhou regions to take advantage of the available labor pool and more stable labor costs.

"This transaction is part of a worldwide manufacturing strategy that includes investing in new facilities and equipment to grow our market leadership position in advanced remote control and sensor technologies," said Paul Arling, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Universal Electronics. "Our China operations, in Yangzhou and Qinzhou, represent an important manufacturing and operations hub and form the foundation for our globally diverse manufacturing operations that include Monterrey, Mexico and Manaus, Brazil."

Securing a buyer for Gemstar China represents an important milestone in the overall strategy, as UEI continues to scale and invest in its global operations to ensure reliable and high quality development and manufacture of customer products throughout the world.

In exchange for the sale of 100% of the capital of stock of Gemstar China, GJI will pay C.G. Development RMB 320 Million (approximately USD 48 Million) in cash at closing. The purchase price will be paid into an escrow account, as specified in the agreement. The closing of the sale will be subject to customary due diligence and regulatory approval by the local commerce authority.

The transaction is expected to be completed within approximately 28 months from the execution of the agreement. During this period, UEI will transfer its remaining Gemstar China production at Panyu to other UEI-owned manufacturing facilities in China. UEI's China-based engineering development and centralized support organizations, presently located at Gemstar China in Panyu, will transfer to two new technology centers located in Suzhou and Guangzhou.
